ASSEMBLY DRAWING 1

ASSEMBLY DRAWING 2

1.

This diagram shows the exploded view of a machine frame assembly. The components are labeled with numbers in red boxes, with red arrows indicating their assembly positions:

- 1: Points to the main frame structure.
- 2 and 3: Points to the base mounting feet.
- 4: Points to the side support bracket.
- 5: Points to the top cover plate.
- 6 and 7: Points to the front mounting feet.
- 8 and 9: Points to the rear support bracket.
- 10 and 11: Points to the internal frame reinforcement.
- 12 and 13: Points to the side mounting feet.
- 14 and 15: Points to the side support feet.

2.

This diagram illustrates the assembly of a car headlight. It shows the headlight housing at the top, with a mounting bracket (labeled 18) positioned below it. The bracket is secured with several screws (labeled 23 and 10). The diagram also shows the headlight housing being attached to a larger vehicle body panel (labeled 23 and 10) using screws. The assembly is shown in an exploded view, indicating the sequence of parts to be installed.

3.

The diagram illustrates two stacks of five cards each. The left stack consists of five cards, each with a value of 10. The right stack also consists of five cards, each with a value of 10. A red box highlights the top two cards of the right stack, which are labeled 20 and 21. Red arrows point from these labels to the corresponding cards in the stack.

4.

This diagram shows an exploded view of a mechanical assembly. Red arrows point from two boxes to specific components. The first box contains callouts 11, 12, and 13, which point to a bracket, a pin, and a bush, respectively. The second box contains callouts 16, 17, 19, and 22, which point to a pin, a bush, a pin, and a bush, respectively. The assembly includes a main frame, a long horizontal shaft, and a vertical support structure.
